And some useful hints to the Distillery, for extracting a fine spirit from malt, and other ingredients. The whole illustrated by several experiments. By a Gentleman lately retired from the brewing business. Price only 3s. bound.

18. A COLLECTION OF THE LORDS PROTESTS, from the first upon record, in the reign of Henry III. to the present time, in two large octavo vols. Price 12s bound.

Although it is presumed, that no address to the public will be necessary to recommend this work, because it sufficiently speaks for itself, yet it may be requisite, for the reader's satisfaction, to shew in what respects it differs from those which have gone before it. The first Collection of Protests was published in 1735; the second in 1743; and the third in 1747; all of them beginning with the year 1641, and ending with the dates of their respective publications. The collection which is here offered to the public, ascends to the first upon record in the year 1242, and is continued to the end of June 1767, thereby including several not made public before. Those of the last twenty years will, in all probability, be esteemed the most interesting, as the subjects which gave occasion to them are allowed to be of the utmost importance. This work is accompanied with an accurate and copious Index, which the other collections want, and is, it must be confessed indispensably necessary. And to the whole is subjoined the very scarce and valuable tract of St. AMAND on the Legislative Power of England: wherein the origin of both houses of parliament, their antient constitution, and the changes that happened in the persons that composed them, with the occasion thereof, are related in chronological order; and many things concerning the English government, the antiquity of the laws of England, and the feudal law, are occasionally illustrated and explained.

19. A NEW AND IMPARTIAL COLLECTION OF INTERESTING LETTERS, FROM THE PUBLIC PAPERS; many of them written by persons of eminence, on a great variety of important subjects, which have occasionally engaged the public attention; from the accession of his present majesty, in October 1760, to May, 1767; particularly on Mr. Pitt's resignation 1761; lord

Bute's accession in 1762; the peace, and other measures of that administration; lord Bute's resignation in 1763; all the original letters, papers, &c. &c. relative to the North Briton, and every branch of Mr Wilkes's case; with a careful selection of all the constitutional essays, and judicious observations on the various interesting points of that celebrated public cause; the whole of which were never before collected together: several valuable papers on trials by juries; parody on Chevy Chase; the remarkable letters on the change of administration in 1765. by Anti-Sejanus, the Occasional Writer, J. J. &c. &c. A great number on the taxation of the Colonies; Mr. Pitt's acceptance of a peerage in 1766; the measures of his administration; dearth of provisions; letters of Tranquillus; the supposed correspondence with Buckhorfe; and above one hundred others, on a great variety of important subjects. In two vols. 8vo. Price 10s. bound

The merit and importance which the news-papers have, of late years, acquired from the liberal communications of gentlemen of the first rank, both in politics and literature, have excited an universal regret, at seeing the valuable productions of such writers doomed indiscriminately to oblivion with the fugitive pieces of the day.—It was the want of a proper publication, wherein to distinguish the writings of such authors, that suggested the idea of this Collection, the intention of which is to preserve and transmit to posterity, such sensible and well written papers as appeared during the years 1760, 1761, 1762, 1763, 1764, 1765, 1766, and 1767 on both sides of every question which arose from the circumstances of the times, the necessities of the state, or the humours of the age.

20. The POLITICAL REGISTER, published monthly, Price 1s each number. This work is divided into two parts; the first consists wholly of original essays and interesting papers, many of them written and communicated by persons of eminence; and embellished with curious prints; and the other a candid and disinterested account of all new publications.

21. A new Edition of COLLINS'S ENGLISH PEERAGE, continued to the present time, and enriched with many very valuable additions. In seven volumes octavo. Price 2l. 12s. 6d. bound.

22. The PEERAGE of SCOTLAND; a genealogical and historical account of all the peers of that antient kingdom; their descents, collateral branches, births, marriages, and issue. Together with a like account of all the attainted peers; and a complete alphabetical list of all those nobles of Scotland whose titles are extinct; which was never before printed. Collected from parliament rolls, records, family documents, and personal information of many noble peers. With the paternal coat of arms, crests, supporters, and mottoes, most beautifully and accurately engraved. In one volume octavo. Price 6s. bound.

23. The PEERAGE of the KINGDOM of IRELAND, upon the same plan with that of Scotland, and the arms executed in the same masterly manner. In two vols octavo, 12s. bound.

† The authors profess to have given in these three volumes, the clearest, most authentic, and best digested account of the noble families of Scotland and Ireland, hitherto published; and, by omitting unnecessary digressions, and ostentatious quotations from histories and biographical memoirs, which only serve to increase the price, have exhibited their genealogies clear and explicit, so that every collateral branch is seen with great facility and exactness, and few even of the gentry of Scotland and Ireland who have intermarried with the nobility, but may here discover by what degree of consanguinity they are allied.

24. The SPEECHES, ARGUMENTS, and DETERMINATIONS of the Right Honourable the Lords of Council and Session in Scotland, upon that important cause wherein his Grace the Duke of Hamilton and others were plaintiffs, and Archibald Douglas, of Douglas, Esq; defendant. Together with an introductory preface, giving an impartial and distinct account of this suit. By a Barrister at Law. Price 5s. bound, and 4s. sewed.

As this cause hath made a great noise all over Europe, the public will doubtless be curious to be informed of the particulars of so solemn a decree; and these they may be assured, as herein related, are perfectly genuine and correct.

25. THE COMPLETE GRAZIER, or Gentleman and Farmer's Directory; containing the best instructions for buying, breeding, and feeding of cattle, sheep and hogs, and for sucking lambs; a description of the particular symptoms commonly attending the various distempers to which cattle, sheep and hogs are subject, with the most approved remedies; directions for making the best butter, several sorts of cheese and rennet; different methods of stocking a grass farm, with the particular expence and profits of each, how to prepare the land, and several sorts of grass feed to advantage; directions for raising proper fodder for cattle and sheep; particular instructions for ordering, breeding and feeding poultry, turkeys, pigeons, geese, ducks, bustards, pea-fowls, pheasants, partridges, and tame rabbits; also directions for making fish-ponds, or canals, and for storing them, and ordering the fish in the best manner. With several other useful and curious particulars. Price 3s. bound.

This book was written by a private gentleman, who intended to retire into the country; and who designed it for his own directory; but not being able to find a place that suited him, owing to the spirit of engrossing farms, and the exorbitant rents, he gave up his design; and, in the course of his reading, not having met with any book which treated solely upon grazing, he, on that account resolved to publish his own.—It will be found, perhaps, to contain many useful observations, not unworthy the attention of the landed gentlemen and farmers.—In it are contained very full directions for chusing and purchasing cattle; for the management of grass lands, and particularly the manner of ordering spurre or star grass; a copious account of the best manner to order or manage poultry, and other birds for culinary use, which is not to be met with in any other book; together with ample directions for making butter and cheese; and a great variety of useful and interesting particulars, which the reader will find in the table of contents.

THE ROYAL KALENDER for England, Scotland and Ireland, a new edition corrected to the present time; containing accurate lists of the complete establishments of Great Britain and Ireland, the four houses of parliament, all the officers of state, revenue, law, &c. in the three kingdoms, army, navy, &c. all with the last corrections, and including above five thousand names not in the other books of this kind. Together with the arms, supporters, crests, and mottoes of the nobility, engraved. Price only two Shillings bound, and 2s. 9d. with an almanack.

27. THE MILITARY REGISTER: or new and complete Lists of all his Majesty's Land Forces and Marines, for the year 1768. With accurate and useful tables of their full pay, allowances and deductions. Also tables of their arrears, calculated to shew, in the most easy and expeditious manner, the amount of arrears for officers of all ranks in the dragoons and foot, a number of days. These tables will be found to be particularly useful to every officer, who will thereby be enabled to form an exact knowledge of the accounts between him and his agent. This work contains an alphabetical list of the officers names, with references to their respective commissions. A list of the military garnisons, with the officers. And an alphabetical list of all the officers on half-pay. Printed and Published by Permission of his Majesty. Price 2s. 6d. bound, and 2s. sewed.

28. DEBATES in the HOUSE of COMMONS of IRELAND, during the Years 1763 and 1764. Taken by a Military Officer. To which is added, An Enquiry how far the Restrictions laid upon the Trade of Ireland, by British Acts of Parliament, are a Benefit to the British Dominions in general, and to England in particular, for whose separate advantage they were intended.

* * * As Ireland is become of late Years much more an Object of public Attention than formerly, the Parliamentary Debates in that Kingdom must become proportionably more interesting and important. In the Debates of the above Period are many Particulars which distinguish them from those of all preceding

Years; and many Questions are discussed, which must be the Subject of Debate in all Times to come.—Among those now offered to the Public are the following: On the Peace. On Pensions, in which both the Legality and Policy of those Grants are fully considered. On Inland Navigation. The limitation of Parliaments. The Place-Bill. The State of the Nation. Libels, and the North Briton. Jobs and their Tendency. Power of Grand Juries. Faction. A Tax on Dogs. Privilege of Parliament. False Patriotism mistaken for Liberty. Licentiousness. Recovery of Tythes. Power of Magistrates. And on a great Variety of other Subjects equally curious and important. It may not be improper to mention, that these are the first Speeches of the Irish Parliament which have ever been published. The Enquiry became necessary by the frequent mention of the Restrictions on Trade in the Debates: It is not, however, confined to the Trade of Ireland, as it shews the Rise of Trade in general, what is its Use, when it attains Perfection, and when it degenerates into Excess. In Two Volumes, Octavo. Dedicated, by Permission, to the Right Hon. THE EARL OF CHATHAM. Price 12s. bound.

29. AN ESSAY ON CRIMES AND PUNISHMENTS. Translated from the Italian. With a Commentary of M. de Voltaire, translated from the French. Pr. 4s. 6d. bound.

It is now about eighteen months since the first publication of this work; in which time it hath passed no less than six editions in the original language; the third of which was printed within six months after its first appearance. It hath been translated into French; that translation hath also been several times reprinted, and perhaps no book on any subject was ever received with more avidity, more generally read, or more universally applauded. The author is the Marquis Beccaria of Milan. Vide the author's preface.

30. THE HISTORY OF THE MINORITY, during the years 1762, 1763, 1764, and 1765. Exhibiting the conduct, principles and views of that party. A new edition, being the fourth, with several new additions. Price 5s. bound, or 4s. sewed.

††† The very extraordinary, and almost singular success which this book has met with, is the strongest and best testimony of its merit. It has moreover been translated in Holland, France and other foreign nations; in which, as well as in England, it is much read.

31. MR. PHILIPS'S HISTORY OF THE LIFE OF CARDINAL POLE. A new edition. In two vols. 8vo. Price 10s. bound.

32. HISTORICAL MEMOIRS OF HIS LATE ROYAL HIGHNESS WILLIAM DUKE OF CUMBERLAND. Inscribed to the EARL OF ALBEMARLE. In one volume octavo. Price 6s. bound.

33. THE TRADE AND NAVIGATION OF GREAT BRITAIN CONSIDERED. By JOSHUA GEE. To which are now added several interesting notes, and an appendix concerning the trade with Portugal, the whole carefully revised by a merchant. Price 3s. bound.

This valuable book has many years been very scarce, although several times strongly recommended by the best judges and writers on trade; and universally allowed to be one of the most interesting books on that subject. The many capital questions which have been lately agitated, and the several others which are shortly expected to come under parliamentary consideration, have occasioned a new edition of this book to be earnestly wished for by many persons; as the whole British trade is therein judiciously examined, and great number of useful improvements pointed out.

34. THE LONDON MERCHANT, a Tale, translated from the French of Madame Gomez. Price 1s. 6d.

35. THE CONDUCT OF THE LATE ADMINISTRATION EXAMINED, RELATIVE TO THE LATE AMERICAN STAMP-ACT. Containing a great number of ORIGINAL PAPERS, extremely interesting to the public; particularly the letters of Mr. Conway to the governors in America; the answers; representations of the board of trade to the king, &c. &c. A new edition. Price 3s.

" This pamphlet abounds with new arguments in favour of the stamp-act, and with severe reflections on those ministers who patiently beheld the laws of Great Britain violated and rejected, her officers insulted, her authority contemned, and her government in America dissolved ; who had tamely looked on, while to maintain the independence of the colonies, an American senate was formed, a regular force embodied, and a dangerous and increasing revolt meditated, and who, in short, by their neglect and connivance, had sacrificed the reputation, empire and interest of Great Britain." Vide Gent. Mag.

36. A LETTER UPON LIBELS, WARRANTS, SEIZURE OF PAPERS, &c. &c. With the Postscript, and an Appendix. Sixth edition. Including the author's last corrections and additions. Price 2s 6d.

37. THE SECURITY OF ENGLISHMENS LIVES; or the Duty, Trust, and Power of the Grand Juries of England. By LORD SOMERS. Price 1s. 6d.

38.. A SPEECH AGAINST THE SUSPENDING AND DISPENSING PREROGATIVE. " It is but forty days tyranny at the outside. Per legem terræ. The sixth edition, corrected. Price 1s. 6d.

39. The DEBATES AND PROCEEDINGS OF THE BRITISH HOUSE OF COMMONS, during the third, fourth, and fifth sessions of the third parliament his late majesty, held in the years 1743, 1744, 1745, and 1746. In two volumes octavo. Price 10s. 6d. boards, and 12s. bound.

††† In the debates of this period are many important motions, arising from a variety of interesting events, both domestic and foreign. Several material changes in the administration were the consequence of those debates. As the attention of parliament was occasionally employed upon a long and expensive war with both France and Spain, and the suppression of an unnatural and intestine rebellion ; a moment's reflection will shew this to have been one of the most important periods in our history. It is therefore to be regretted, that these debates have not been collated and digested before, and that so necessary a work has been so long neglected : a work so essentially useful to every member of parliament, and every lover of constitutional history. These debates, many speeches in which were furnished by the speakers themselves, and all of them have been compared with authentic notes taken in the house, are arranged partly upon the same plan with Chandler's collection, which is brought down to the year 1742 ; as is also Torbuck's ; but with such improvements from the journals, and other authentic papers, as, it is presumed, will render them worthy the notice of every British legislator.

40. A CONTINUATION of this work is in the press, and will speedily be published.

41. The TRAVELLER'S POCKET-BOOK ; or OGILBY and MORGAN'S BOOK of the ROADS improved and amended, in a method never before attempted. Containing, 1. An alphabetical list of all the cities, towns and remarkable villages, shewing in or near what roads they are situated. 2. The distances in measured miles, from London to all the cities, towns, and remarkable villages in England and Wales, according to the new erected mile-stones ; and an account of such noblemen's and gentlemen's seats as lie near the road-side. 3. The cross roads in England and Wales. 4. A whole sheet map of the roads in England and Wales, fitted to bind with the book. 5. The post-master-general's account of the nights that post-letters are dispatched to the several trading towns ; and the expence of sending a letter or packet by express to any part of the kingdom. 6. A list of the fairs in England and Wales, regulated according to the new stile. 7. Some useful rules for riding, drawn from nature and experience. The fourth edition, corrected ; with many additional cross roads. Price only 1s. 6d. bound.

42. The FOREIGNER'S GUIDE, in French and English ; being a very proper companion for every stranger on his coming to London ; containing a description of every thing in that city and its neighbourhood, worthy his observation. Price 2s. 6d. bound.
